

3.- Local Community Policy

Our hotel is actively developing practices which are self-sustaining economically and contributes to the economic development of the local community by employment of the locals and purchasing local good and products. Sustainable products from local businesses are preferred at all purchasing levels.

This ensures a sustainable business that benefits everyone: owners, employees and neighbors.

We totally agree with developing practices that revitalize the social structure of the nearby community, by sponsoring cultural events.

The hotel contributes to the community development through donations to various local churches and providing products for the holding of local cultural festivals.

Local residents are employed including in management position. The hotel is equitable in hiring women and local minorities, including in management positions.
